THE BEST PRODUCTS DESERVE THE BEST SERVICE.

You've already selected the best blast-resistant buildings (BRBs) available, so when it comes time for service, it only makes sense to use the best support tool around—one specifically designed for your BRBs.

At RedGuard, our team of factory-trained service technicians is outfitted with fully provisioned trucks and parts to maximize the performance of your BRBs. And just as we take the extra steps to ensure the quality of our buildings and the ease of delivery and setup, we'll do everything we can to provide you with the peace of mind knowing that your BRBs are always in peak condition.

To top it off, our technicians have the security clearances needed to get quick access to your site and carry a number of replacement parts with them in the trucks—even hard-to-find parts. This means your workers can stick to their schedules while we take care of your BRB.

Each of our service programs provide the service you need to keep your BRBs operating at peak performance. From basic, on-site repairs to preventative maintenance to professional services, one phone call connects you to the right resource. You don't have to wait for something to break to get support. Just like on a car, our schedule of preventative services keeps your BRBs running at peak performance and can prolong the life of certain parts. So instead of trying to do these maintenance tasks in your spare time, just select the package that suits your needs.
