CONTAINER AND MOBILE OFFICE ALL IN ONE

MULTI-SECTION

Our portable offices are assembled and finished in our U.S.-based production facility and can be placed on almost any worksite. This multi-section, free-spanning space creates a more open footprint for improved workflow and flexibility, while two centrally integrated columns provide structural support without compromising usability. Unlike traditional mobile offices, these buildings sit at ground-level, enhancing both safety and accessibility. Inside, you'll find a highly functional workspace equipped with the amenities of a modern brick-and-mortar office, built to keep your team productive and comfortable.

FEATURES

All of our custom units are equipped with high-quality finishes and ground-level access. Units are finished in one of our U.S.-based production or fabrication centers, depending on the project. We use durable steel, making them water-resistant; there's also an option to add interior walls, making them ideal for office spaces. Units are delivered to any hardened surface on your site with tilt-bed trailers, or they can be set in place using a crane for precise placement.
